

METRIC CITY — OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT

An additional layer is being added to the Metric Amendments.

Metric City evolves through movement, not deadlines.

As our departments, auditors, creators, and advisors continue shaping the architecture of the new era, a new principle will now guide how and when future amendments are released:

Release Times will remain unannounced.

They will activate only after key individual meetings have aligned.

This means:

- The city listens before it speaks.
- Amendments emerge through resonance — not pressure.
- Policy becomes a living metric shaped by the people who show up, contribute, observe, and calibrate.
- The timing of each release reflects the readiness of the collective, not a fixed schedule.

Metric City grows through convergence.

When the right conversations happen, when the right minds connect, the next phase unlocks naturally.

This preserves balance.

It prevents force.

It honors the cadence of the Infinity Spiral — the pulse that guides the city's transitions.

Further details will be incorporated into the final amendment package as each alignment completes.

Stand by for the next activation.

Not on the clock — but in the rhythm.